Cemetery Clean-up and Gravestone Resetting Demonstration. Saturday, April 5th – 9 am – 1 pm Looking for volunteers to help clean Cemetery #26, the Riverside Cemetery (opposite Harrisville Fire Station) on Callahan School Street, Harrisville. Bring rakes, leaf blowers, brush loppers, gloves and water to drink. We will also need a few barrels, carts, tarps, etc. to haul the leaves into the woods. There will be gravestone resetting and gravestone cleaning demonstration, weather permitting. Rain date: Sunday, April 6th. Free coffee and doughnuts. The beautification project in this cemetery will continue in May (date to be determined) with the planting of flowering shrubs and native wildflowers. Contact Betty Mencucci – bmencucci@verizon.net.

Cemetery Clean-up of Cemetery #12- Saturday, April 12th – 9 am – 12 pm. located at the intersection of Charles Street and Howard Avenue in Pascoag. Bring rakes, leaf blowers, brush loppers, gloves and water to drink. We need volunteers with pickup trucks/trailers to haul the leaves to the town's compost facility. Contact Betty Mencucci – bmencucci@verizon.net.

Walking tour- Wednesday, May 28th, 6pm. Lewis family Cemetery tour, history tour of Buck Hill and hike at O'Leary Conservation and Agricultural Land. Join members of the Burrillville Land Trust for an exciting tour of the newly acquired 65-acre Ernie and Norma O'Leary Conservation and Agricultural Land on Croff Road near the Buck Hill Management Area near the Connecticut line. Use 265 Croff Road, Pascoag, RI as a GPS reference. Park along Croff Road closest to the land trust property. The 1 mile walk along uneven terrain will include a narrated history of the Buck Hill Management Area including stories of an old tavern and the Buck Hill Schoolhouse. Hikers are asked to wear sturdy shoes and bring a water bottle. We will tour historical cemetery #100 to learn about the Lewis family and how they lived in this remote area in the mid-1800s. The cemetery tour will include information about a Civil War soldier and a Revolutionary War soldier. From there we will travel to the property owned by the Burrillville Land Trust and learn about land conservation and how the property continues to be a working farmland. Enjoy expansive views of the agricultural land conserved by the Burrillville Land Trust. The tour will conclude with the reading of some poetry written by an early 20th century Buck Hill resident. For more information send an email to bmencucci@verizon.net or call (401) 500-0433. The narrated tour is free and open to anyone.

Lecture "Living with the Dead in Rhode Island" / Wednesday evening-April 30th- 6:30pm to 7-30pm - at the Cranston Public Library/Williams Hall Auditorium located at 1825 Broad St. Cranston, RI 02905...

Before 1990, it wasn't safe to be dead in Rhode Island. Although the destruction of graves has been a state felony since 1896, laws have not always stopped property developers, grave robbers, hobbyists, and urban expansion from compromising cemeteries and burial places.

On April 30, state archeologist Charlotte Taylor will explore this dark history as part of Cemetery Preservation & Awareness Weeks - Register for "Living with the Dead in Rhode Island" at the Cranston Public Library/ William Hall Auditorium – 401-781-2450

Presentation- April 23- Wednesday-1 pm- The Kings of Newport- presented at the Edward King House - located at 35 King St. Newport, RI 02840. The name “King” is everywhere in the city of Newport and in the Island Cemetery. The Edward King House, Newport’s Senior Center, and Kingscote, owned by the Preservation Society of Newport County, are only two of the significant buildings the King family built or owned in the city. The family members were numerous and important members of society. This presentation features the Kings who built their castles in Newport and impacted the city. Reservations are required for this lecture. Visit the Edward King House website to reserve a seat.

Walking Tour- MAY 10 Saturday- 1pm Trinity Church Yard – located at 1 Queen Anne Sq, Newport- 02840. Guests can park on the surrounding streets or in the city’s Mary Street parking lot. Contact - Mary Jo Valdes - thinwatersailor@verizon.net TrinityTours100@gmail.com

Interpretive Sign Dedication-April 26 - (Saturday) – 10 am- noon, Coggeshall Burial Ground Open House and (10:30 am) - Coggeshall Burial Ground is located on Coggeshall Ave near Victoria Avenue. The Coggeshall family was one of the founding families of Portsmouth and Newport. John Coggeshall served as President of the colony and established this burial site. Abraham Redwood, founder of a library in Newport is one of the notable family members buried here. Graves will be marked with information for visitors during the open house. A brief ceremony will take place at 10:30 am officially dedicating the recently installed interpretive signs. Coggeshall is one of seven sign locations. nphistoriccemeteries@gmail.com

Presentation- April 27- (Sunday) 2 pm- Farewell St. to Newport, Belmont Chapel in Island Cemetery

Farewell Street is the artery many people use to enter Newport, and it is also surrounded by sites used by many as they exit life. The core of Newport’s burials sites is located along this highway and provides, for many, their first and last glimpse of the city. If you ever wondered about the graves as you travel Farewell Street, this presentation will answer your questions. It will explain the creation of the six burial sites and share some highlights for each. The lecture is free, but registration is requested- nphistoriccemeteries@gmail.com

Exhibit- May 1-31- Exhibit- Newport library, Opening the Book on Newport Burials - The exhibition is in the Spring Street lobby of the library. People buried in Newport are important figures in history. This exhibit focuses on several stories that are told in books. Some, like Richard Morris Hunt are internationally known while others, like George Champlin Mason, are local celebrities. Featured books about Newport burial sites and stone carvers are included in the exhibit.

Tour- May 3- (Saturday) 10 am- Wilbur site and Bliss house- The Judge Anthony Wilbur burial lot is a small family site that is the only family site in Newport that was established after 1800. The Wilbur family, originally from Tiverton, married members of the Peckham and Hazzard families, longtime Newport residents. The event will start with a brief history of the burial site and an explanation of recent stonework completed. The event continues inside the John Bliss house, one of the oldest in the city. Space on this tour is limited, and reservations are required. To reserve a place, send a message to npthistoriccemeteries@gmail.com. Please include your name and how many people will attend. This is a free event.

Walking Tour- MAY 10 Saturday- 1pm Trinity Church Yard – located at 1 Queen Anne Sq, Newport- 02840. Guests can park on the surrounding streets or in the city’s Mary Street parking lot. Contact - Mary Jo Valdes - thinwatersailor@verizon.net TrinityTours100@gmail.com

Lecture- May 11- (Sunday) 2 pm, Newport Neighborhood Burial sites presented at the Belmont Chapel. This lecture takes place in the historic Belmont Chapel at Island Cemetery- While Newport’s larger burial sites get the most attention, the smaller ones scattered throughout the city are worthy of exploration. Most date to colonial times and provide pockets of history and artistry for residents and visitors of the city. This lecture will include sites related to Newport’s religious congregation, among them the oldest existing Jewish burial ground in the country. Family burial sites will be visited and the story of the Arnold site and its savior, Alice Brayton, will be shared... The lecture is free, but registration is requested- npthistoriccemeteries@gmail.com

Exhibit and Tour- May 17th, Saturday, at Fort Adams Cemetery. Historic Music of Newport is going to have an exhibit at the Fort Adams Cemetery, in Newport, on Saturday, May 17th. There will also be a tour of the cemetery at 12 noon on that day. Here is a link to the event:
